LEGAL DOCUMENTS NEEDED AT DEATH

- 1. WILL - What happens if I don't have a Will or Living Trust? The legal term for dying without a Will is dying intestate. If you do not specify through a valid Will or Living Trust who will receive your property, state law controls and generally distributes your property to your spouse and/or your closest heirs. This may or may not be what you intended. Furthermore, if you fail to nominate a guardian for your minor children, the state could appoint someone you don't trust as a legal guardian of your minor children. Finally, by failing to appoint someone to carry out your wishes, the state can appoint anyone to be the administrator of your property, and the administrator may have to pay certain fees or post a bond at the expense of your estate, before he or she can begin to distribute your assets. Keep original copy in a safe-deposit box /lawyer office/safe place.
- TRUST - Trust cost more and if you don't have lot of property/wealth it's not worth your time. They can ease the sting of probate and save time, but cost is still high and everything you own has to be listed which is very time commensuring.
- 2. DO-IT-YOURSELF HANDWRITTEN WILLS - Oklahoma accepted if rules for writing are followed (Call for instructions 1-888-534-5243) But "legal words are pretty powerful" If you think there could be a fight over it later, you better get a lawyer. If you do write your own will, have a lawyer check it.
- 2. DURABLE POWER OF ATTORNEY - Someone to act for a person who has become incapacitated or until death of revocation. Use - Spouse/Children/Family/Friend/Attorney
- 3. MEDICAL POWER OF ATTORNEY - Allows someone to act at the time of persons most critical stages of life.
- 4. ADVANCED DIRECTIVE FOR HEALTH CARE - Most call this "Pull The Plug" Make sue you carry in car and have copy at all area hospitals with current emergency phone numbers.
- 5. BENEFICIARY - Most do not realizes that this means your wishes are not carried out until your death.

MOST IMPORTANT - All Banks, Credit Unions, Insurance Co, Investment Co, Mortgage Co, and wherever you have assets REQUIRE various things for your next of kin to have access to your funds. You need to call everywhere you have money invested. If you become incapacitated and have not filled out forms, your assets cannot be obtained until your death. Put your children on everything....Call this week and check.

6. DEEDING HOME - By law you must have home deeded for 5yrs prior to 24/7 long term health care. Or the Gov/State get estate. Check with your lawyer on doing this.

7. EXECUTOR - Best to only have one; more can cause problems with signing documents. You can designate more if first person can not fulfill duties. Someday you'll clean the garage, get caught up on the laundry, get pictures sorted, and someday you'll get a WILL/TRUST. The first three can wait another week. BUT TAKE CARE OF YOUR WILL NOW!

WORD OF THE WEEK - ZE-RUB'-BA-BEL -Descendant of David and Jehoiakim, an ancestor of Jesus, and the leader of the first band of Jews that returned to Palestine from the captivity in Babylon. B. C. 536. He superintended the building of the second TEMPLE.

TIP OF THE WEEK - HEADS UP...Lots of SCAMS going on. If ya don't know the phone # calling U don't answer. Never give anyone SS number, or any other numbers of any accounts you have.

HUMOR - A WOMAN saw her husband stalking around with a fly swatter. "Any luck?" she asked. "Yes," he said. "Three males and two females." "How can you tell them apart?" "Easy. Three were on that pop can and two were on the phone."

LIFE IN AMERICA - Jan. 1877: Crazy Horse and his warriors - outnumbered, low on ammunition and forced to use outdated weapons to defend themselves - fight their final losing battle against the U.S. Cavalry in Montana.

KIDS IN CHURCH - Bible teacher asked her class, "What was Jesus' mother's name?" "One child answered, "Mary." The teacher then asked, "Who knows what Jesus' father's name was?" "Another kid replied, "Verge." "Confused, the teacher asked, "Where did you get that?" The kid said, "Well, you know they are always talking about Verge n' Mary."

NAME OF JESUS - HOLY CHILD: (Acts 4:27) For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together,

WHY -STATESIDE/OVERSEAS - HG SUPPORTED/BOULDER CO/DAVID HOWARD - Thanks for your encouragement, financial support, and staying committed to our work.

BIBLE QUIZ - Meaning of "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani - Who received keys of kingdom - What book is story of Samson found.

BRAIN TEASER - They do not possess flesh/feathers/scales/ bone But have fingers and thumbs of their own. What am I?

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY - Learn from other's mistakes rather than making them all yourself. The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise. Proverbs 12:15

WEEKLY MEMORIZATION - Cut & Keep - Jan. 5:13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms.

. IS RELIGIOUS UNITY POSSIBLE TODAY?

Our main consideration should be, what does the Bible say on the subject? What is heaven's directive on the matter? The answer to our question is: Yes, the Bible teaches the unity of all believers.

Division is condemned in the Scriptures. "Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh" (Matthew 18:7)! "Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them" (Romans 16:17).

Not only is unity possible, it is demanded by the Lord of heaven and earth. Jesus prayed for the unity of all those who would believe on Him. While praying for the apostles He said, "Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; That they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me" (John 17:20-21). Jesus' death on the cross was for unity among believers.

The church at Corinth was exhorted to have unity. "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment" (I Corinthians 1:10).

Religious unity is demanded, not only with one another, but unity with the Lord as well. In order for there to be unity that meets with the Lord's demands, it must be based on God's Word. Without God's Word as the foundation, unity means nothing. Since the Lord always taught the same thing, we must teach and practice what He taught if we expect to meet with His approval. Seven major points of unity are recorded in Ephesians 4:4-6 — one body, one spirit, one hope, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and one God the Father. Denominations differ greatly on these seven points. But there's no reason to.

Will you accept God's standard for unity—His Word? Man's word and philosophy will not do. Nothing but the pure unadulterated word of God will suffice. Work for unity!

SO WHAT KIND OF PAIN IS THERE IN HELL?

Since our bodies, brains, and nerve endings are back in the dust of the earth, how can we experience the pain of hell? Jesus made it clear that there is pain, but the language also makes it clear that He is not talking about the kind of pain we experience in this life. When Jesus talks about the pain of hell He uses contrasting images. In Matthew 8:12 those in hell are described as being "thrown into the outer darkness, where there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth." In passages like Revelation 21:8 the term brimstone is used which is from the Greek theion referring to divine fire. In the parable of the rich man and Lazarus in Luke 16 the rich man is described as being "in agony in this fire" (verse 24). Both of these terms--darkness and fire--have multiple meanings in the original language. Matthew 3:11 talks about being baptized with fire from heaven, and Acts 2:3 describes the Holy Spirit in those terms. Romans 12:20 uses fire in a totally symbolic way as does Hebrews 1:7. First John 1:6 talks about walking in darkness. Many biblical passages identify darkness as the descriptive term of what ignorance, lostness, confusion, and evil are about. The pain of hell is real, but it is not a video game nor is it something like what we experience in life. Perhaps the closest we come to it is when we have our heart broken by a lost love. This is a good parallel because God is love. Being separated from God is to be separated from love. The pain of that process is hard to describe, and it is real. God is light, and being separated from light forever is a horrible thought, no matter what you understand that light to be. God is good, and to be separated from good for all of eternity means to be separated from all that brings us smiles and joy in life. What is most likely to bring us tears in this life is not a headache or a backache, but the loss of a love, no matter what brings about that loss.

WHAT ABOUT THE JOYS OF HEAVEN?

A likely response to this discussion of hell is to ask if all the time-dependent good things we have in life will be absent in heaven. What about, laughter, warmth, satisfied hunger, and the like? Obviously these sensual things which are based on the physical will no longer be a part of our existence. However, they will be replaced by something so much better and so complete that we will scarcely remember our previous sensual experiences. Years ago a writer compared heaven to being born. When we were inside our mothers, we had a utopian world. It was always at 98.6°, we had a constant supply of food, nothing ever brought us pain, and we were protected from every negative influence of the natural world. (Ideally, at least.) When we were forced into the world outside our mother's body, we did not want to go. We screamed and cried at the fearful prospect of this new condition. Gradually we began to find this new existence was far better than our previous existence. We had new pleasures, new sensations, new freedom, and the wonderful light that we had never seen. We moved from a world of darkness and muted sounds to a world of incredible beauty, color, and wonderful rich sounds. None of us could ever imagine wanting to go back into the womb again, because our existence is so much better, and we have such greater freedom now. Moving into our next existence is very similar. We cannot envision what it will be like any more than we can describe light to an unborn baby. It will offer greater freedom, greater beauty, and greater pleasure. The main beauty is that it will be free of all the negatives--no more pain, no more death, no more evil, no more temptation, no more politics, and no more sin. There will be nothing but complete unity with God and all that belongs to God--love, peace, joy. Atheists will not be there, but they did not want to be there anyway. They will just get what they always wanted--a place totally free of God and all those who believe in Him.

More Moons

New techniques and new instruments have allowed mankind to see smaller and smaller objects in the solar system. Since 1999, the number of moons in the solar system has grown from 64 to 129. Of these new moons, 45 are orbiting Jupiter and 13 are orbiting Saturn. The presence of these moons and the orbits that they have are giving us more information about how the solar system was formed and how the parts of the solar system interact. It is this interaction that gives stability to the earth's orbit and to its position around the sun. The complexity of the system is beautiful, but more importantly it gives stability to the earth and allows life to exist on this planet. The more we study the solar system, the more we realize how many things had to be carefully designed to allow life to exist here.

"I never said they weren't good seats. I just said they're not terribly comfortable."

"You could at least wait until I leave the room before you go out for a second opinion!"
